

Jonathan Plowright Newsletter

Late Summer 2014

*Read about Jonathan's recent recording session for Hyperion Records, news of concerts coming up, and Brahms Volume 2 is released!

Jonathan returned to Glasgow City Hall in August to join the BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra to record his fourth CD for the popular Hyperion Romantic Piano Concerto series, conducted once again by Lukasz Borowicz. Together they have unearthed some more rare Polish gems, this time by Ludomir Rozycki, a contemporary of Szymanowski. (<http://culture.pl/en/artist/ludomir-rozycki>). The CD will be released next summer.

(.....most witty caption to this one wins a CD!)

CONCERT APPEARANCES – COMING UP

Odessa Philharmonic Orchestra, Ukraine, 12,13 September:

Jonathan returns to Odessa after a gap of 16 years, since when the Ukraine has been, and still is going, through some very turbulent times. Jonathan will play his newly recorded Rozycki Concerto No.1, which, together with Tchaikowsky on the programme will, according to conductor Hobart Earle, make a very "Polish/Russian" musico-sociological statement, and even more relevant is that Rozycki began his career in Lviv, Ukraine in 1907....

Leicester International Music Festival, Lunchtime Concert Series, 2 October:

Poland and Ukraine are again united when Jonathan is teamed up again with his favourite Polish/Ukrainian string quartet, the Szymanowski Quartet to perform the fabulous Zelenski Piano Quartet, their recording of which won the accolade of BBC Music Magazine Chamber Choice when it was released in 2012.
